Our Services

Software Development & Consultancy

Software development at PragmaTech is many fold. We provide consultancy, development, maintenance, training, and support. We believe in customer satisfaction. Be it any area of development, we provide maximum support to our clients to build and maintain the quality of products delivered.

Web Designing & Development

In today's world, Internet is one of the advertisement media. Besides, it also serves as the information source. Apart from print and other media, business houses are also looking towards the Internet to mark their presence. At PragmaTech, realizing these facts we provide our clients with web designing and web development solutions and share a little contribution in their success.

Software Education & Training

The software education and training is the backbone of the software development although the latter is more alluring. At PragmaTech, we believe that a developer is not born but is trained. Only good software education can bring out the best qualities of a developer, which is the need of the time.

Domain Hosting & Logo Designing

Brand establishment is a vital factor for every business. As part of Web Designing Solutions, we also provide Domain Hosting and Logo Designing services. Our unique logo designs help you establish your Brand Identity, while our Domain Hosting and Web Profile Management services contribute towards brand recognition in the internet media.

Prestigious Clients

We strive to provide excellent service and products to our clients. Big or small, all our clients benefit from our unique combination of creativity, know-how, service and value.

Rules of Engagement

Our core strength has been to apply a "think outside the box" approach to each client engagement in order to drive unparalleled success and customer loyalty. We customize solutions that deliver value and best meet the needs of our customers – on-time, on-budget, every time.

Transparency of Work

We offer our clients an unrivalled and comprehensive service from the earliest planning stages of a build through to day-to-day maintenance and updates– whilst simultaneously offering strategic and tactical advice for the future.
